Model H7593 ATV Trailer Ramps.

Loading Ramp Safety Precautions

- PREVENTING RAMP KICK-OUT. Connect the ramp safety chains to the trailer so the ramps are tight against the trailer bed.
- PREVENTING ATV BACK-FLIP. Keep the ramps at the lowest angle possible where the ATV or equipment will stay on all four wheels and not flip backwards during loading.
- PREVENTING ATV ROLLOVER. Position the ramp feet on hard and level ground, and secure the ramp top to a level trailer. Keep the ATV load balanced on each ramp.
- PREVENTING ATV RAMP OVERLOAD. Remove heavy or awkward gear from the ATV luggage rack before using the ramps, and DO NOT exceed 500 lbs. per ramp.
- PREVENTING ATV LOADING INJURY. Always have a second adult person present to guide the ATV up the ramps; NEVER allow a novice or child to guide or load an ATV, and never stand in the rolling path of the ATV.
- PREVENTING GENERAL INJURY. Never use ATV Ramps if you are tired, under the influence of a medication or alcohol.
- PREVENTING ATV BACK-FLIP. Never ride the ATV up the ramps, or accelerate to quickly climb the ramps.

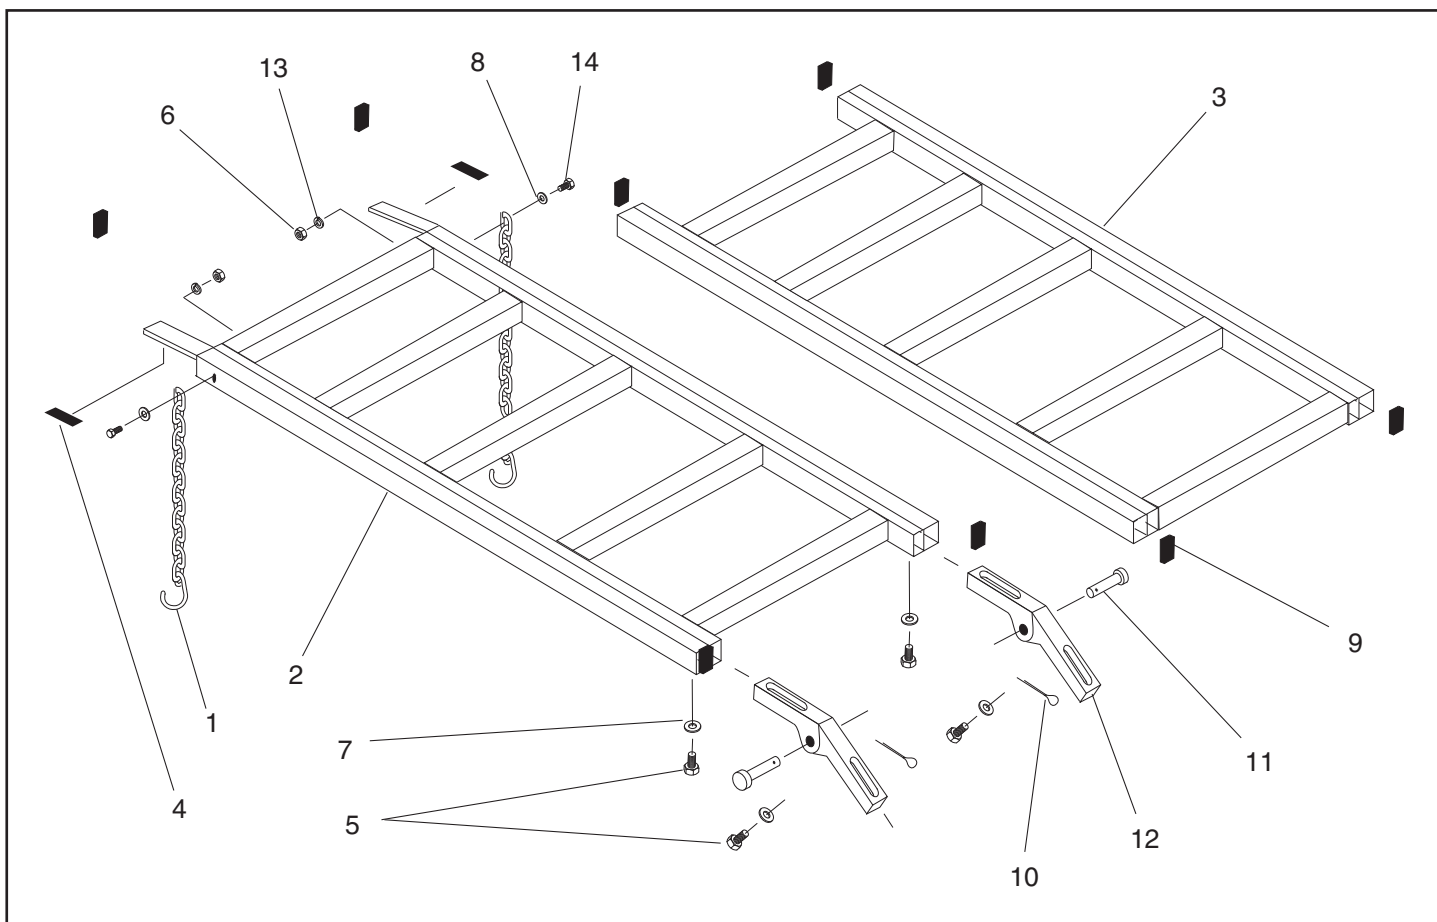

⚠️ WARNING

NEVER drive the ATV or equipment up the ramps, or severe injury or death may occur.

Setup/Use

1. Check and make sure your ATV weighs less than 1,000 Lbs. If it weighs more than 1,000 Lbs. DO NOT use these ramps.
2. Make sure the towing vehicle transmission is in park, the parking brake is set, and that the trailer is properly connected and is level.
3. Position the ramps on hard-level ground, and on the trailer bed at the lowest possible angle.
4. Connect the ramp safety chains to the trailer, so the ramps are supported tightly against the trailer bed, and will not kick out during ramp use.
5. Using an electric or manual winch, draw the ATV up the ramps and onto the trailer bed, DO NOT drive the ATV up the ramps.
6. Secure the ATV to the trailer bed according to Department of Transportation regulations, and stow the trailer ramps.
